Consortial Policy

CHEST is available to negotiate agreements with national and local consortia, offering customized pricing that takes into consideration multiple factors such as the number of sites involved, with the objective to increase the availability of high-quality content amongst the scientific community.

These are some of the standard parameters used:

- Multiple years contract for three years
- Fixed price cap for the duration of the contract, lower than the standard yearly increase from the publisher's catalogue
- Deeply Discounted Price for print subscriptions
- Perpetual Access guaranteed after the termination of contract
- "Opt-out" clause in case of superior or irresistible force (force majeure)
