

PNAS

www.pnas.org

PNAS, Proceedings of The National Academy of Sciences of the United States of America www.pnas.org is one of the world's most-cited multidisciplinary scientific serials.

Coverage in PNAS spans the biological, physical, and social sciences. Since its establishment in 1914, it continues to publish cutting-edge research reports, commentaries, reviews, perspectives, colloquium papers, and actions of the Academy. The National Academy is composed of approximately 2,100 members and 385 foreign associates, of whom 198 are Nobel laureates.

Impact Factor (2007): 9.598

Subscribers in more than 60 countries

Abstracting/Indexing: Index Medicus, PubMed Central, Current Contents, Medline, SPIN, JSTOR, ISI Web of Science, and BIOSIS.

Online version: updated daily and available through the HighWire Press platform

Online-only supplementary material

Searchable issues dating back to 1915

"RSS feeds" www.pnas.org/rss : to distribute and export Web contents

"Sustainability Science" is a new section launched in 2006. This area addresses questions at the interface of human development and the natural environment and brings together disciplines across the natural and social sciences, engineering, and medicine.

"Special features": collection of papers that highlight important or emerging topics and include perspectives and peer-reviewed research articles organized and edited by leaders in the field.